ERNESTINE EMMETT HONORED

Miss Modern Florence Nightingale of West Bank

In this modern day of selecting Miss America, Miss New Orleans, Miss Anyplace, or Miss Anywhere, if there were a competition for "Miss Modern Florence Nightingale," the people of the West Bank, Algiers to Grand Isle, would select Miss Ernestine Emmett, a public-health nurse for the Jefferson Parish Health Unit, according to a recent story in the Westbank Herald.

Miss Emmett, B.S. in Nursing, '55, endeared herself to the people of Grand Isle during hurricane "Flossy" last year, when she spent many days and long hours in aiding the stricken people of that area. As one Grand Isle resident recalled, she performed services beyond the line of duty and earned for herself a permanent niche in the hearts of the people of that community.

Her dedicated devotion to her nursing profession as exhibited by her ability to cheer, comfort, and help her patients—has been an inspiration to those who have come in contact with her.

Awarded Scholarship for Graduate Study

As a result of her exceptional ability and service, Miss Emmett has been awarded a state and federal scholarship to the University of Michigan, where she is now working on the Master's Degree in Nursing.

Miss Emmett was born in Nashville, Tennessee, in 1931. She moved with her mother and stepfather to Algiers in 1946 and graduated from Behrman High School in 1949. She entered the N. S. C. School of Nursing that year, but an automobile accident in 1952 caused her to drop out for two semesters.

Returning to school, she finished her work for the 3-Year Diploma and obtained her "Registered Nurse" title in 1953 after passing the State Nurse Examiners Board examination.

She worked for the late Dr. Henry LaRocca at his clinic in Algiers for a year before returning to finish her B.S. in Nursing in 1955. After graduation she became a full-time nurse with the Jefferson Health Unit, being assigned to the section including part of Marrero and Grand Isle.

During hurricane "Flossy" Miss Emmett and three other nurses spent four days on Grand Isle, working day and night with little or no rest. After the emergency she continued working two days each month at the clinic there.

Nothing spectacular or romantic or thrilling - just doing a job that had to be done - but the people of the "West Bank" will tell you quickly their selection for Miss Modern Florence Nightingale, and that is Miss Ernestine Emmett, the lovely young nurse from Algiers.

and it must continue to serve, not only as well as but better than it has in the past. The solution lies in the interest and influence of every graduate and former student of this school - and in the hands of the friends of this school. Somehow, we have the feeling that you will not fail in your duty. You do not want your child to apply for admission in the not-too-distant future and receive the reply, "Sorry. We can't take any more. We are already overcrowded."

NORTHWESTERN STATE COLLEGE

March, 1958

Biology Department to Occupy Williamson Hall This Summer

In the February issue of the Alumni Columns, we discussed the possibilities of Northwestern State College meeting the increasing demands to be made upon it for necessary housing accommodations and instructional facilities for the tidal wave of students predicted to roll into the colleges between now and 1965.

Another equally important, if not more important, problem will also have to be faced. That is the very serious job of securing and keeping a qualified staff of instructors to teach this greatly enlarged student body that is inevitably coming to this institution for an education.

The task of securing well-trained, efficient instructors at the present time for either additions or replacements for the instructional staff in colleges all over the nation is becoming more and more difficult. The problem in the near future will force institutions of higher learning to accept, not the best, but the best they can get.

In approximately two-thirds of the colleges and universities of the country, administrators are able to retain their more efficient staffs as long as they are able and willing to continue. They have no compulsory retirement at a specified age, sixty-five, as is required for the colleges in Louisiana under the control of the State Board of Education. This law does not apply at the Louisiana State University nor in the private colleges of Louisiana.

During the last several years we have seen eminently qualified, physically fit, and mentally alert teachers removed from the faculty by retirement at the time they were at the apex of their efficiency. Not only have the colleges lost the valuable services of such people, but these teachers have been denied an opportunity of serving the youth of their state in the manner in which they are best qualified.

The Louisiana College Conference, at its meeting in Hammond recently, passed a resolution urging the passage of permissive legislation by the Legislature to allow faculty members of the colleges to continue working beyond the age of sixty-five on a year-by-year basis, upon proof of physical and mental capacity, at the discretion of the governing body of the particular institution at which they are employed. There are other provisions of the proposal that will save the State thousands of dollars each year, but the idea of continuing service by tried and desirable faculty members is really worth considering. It will alleviate some of the problem.

This is the last of a series of pictures of new buildings under construction on the campus. The Biology building, which has been named Williamson Hall, is situated west of the Chemistry-Physics building. It is scheduled for completion within the next thirty days. The Biology Department hopes to move into its new quarters during the early summer.

In announcing the appointment, Southern Regional Education Board Director Robert C. Anderson pointed out that Wilson had several responsible positions with colleges and universities as a research worker as well as teacher and educational administrator. He has been lecturer and Director of the Counseling Service at Princeton since 1955.

OUR SELECTION FOR ALL-CONFERENCE HONORS

Since neither the Sports Writers' nor the Coaches' selection for members of the Gulf States Conference basketball team have made their appearance in the newspapers, at the time we go to press, we decided to do our own selecting of at least two members of the first team.

On the first team we would place Mickey Crnkovic (left above), senior and captain of the Demon basketball team, and Jimmie "Red" Leach, junior, (pictured on the right) who has led the Demons in scoring through the season.

As "Coach of The Year" in G.S.C. basketball, there can be no other selection than that of Coach Huey Cranford. Taking over the reins as head coach, in the absence of Coach Thomas, Coach Cranford has guided the Demons to a co-championship of the conference.

DEMONS TIE FOR BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Coach Huey Cranford's Demons overcame a 20-point deficit in the last half of the final G.S.C. game with Louisiana Tech at Ruston, and rolled to a 72-66 victory in an overtime period to clinch a share of the G.S.C. championship in basketball. The victory was an amazing demonstration of the "never-say-die" attitude of the team.

When the Demons had played one-half their conference games, they had a 4-1 record, having split games with McNeese and won over Northeast, Louisiana Tech, and Southwestern. The next five games were a "must" if the Demons expected to share the championship. McNeese, the leader in the conference, had a 7-1 record at that time.

The Demons made it 5-1 against Southwestern on the home court, 90-75, and then played the next four games away from home. Northeast faded after an early lead and the Demons won 95-60. Southeastern gave the home folks a thriller before bowing to the Demons 71-65.

At Southwestern the Demons met a team that had shown a tremendous improvement and the resulting game was one full of excitement and suspense until the final whistle. N.S.C. came out on the top side of a 77-65 score.

Against Louisiana Tech, the Demons seemed unable to get going. Tech players were sinking phenomenal shots and the Demons were missing. Trailing 35-17 at the half, the Demons dropped 20 points behind at 38-18. Then they started closing in on the Bulldogs, slowly but surely, until with 10 seconds to go in the game, Adkins made two free throws to tie the game at 64-64. In the overtime the Demons forged ahead and held the lead for a 72-66 count.

DEMONS HAVE 20-7 RECORD FOR SEASON

The Demons finished the basketball season with a record of 20 wins against 7 losses. Of the seven losses, three were by a single point and one by two points. They made a total of 1732 points for a season average of 64.148 points per game, while their opponents scored 1604 points for a game average of 59.407. In conference games, with a 9-1 record, the Demons made 721 points for a 72.1 average, and their opponents made 642 points for a 64.2 game average.

Jimmie Leach led the conference in free throws made, getting 80 of 89 attempts in GSC games for a percentage of 899. Moreland of Louisiana Tech was the leading scorer for the season with 602 points, while Leach was runner-up with 454 points. Moreland is 6 ft. 8 in. in height and Leach is 5 ft. 9 in.

An interesting note for the conference games is the personal-foul column. Southwestern led the field with three men averaging 4.1 fouls each per game. Northeast furnished No. 4 man, and McNeese took fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth places, averaging 3.6 fouls each per game.

SPRING SPORTS

BASEBALL

Coach Alvin "Cracker" Brown is busily engaged, between rains, in trying out the 51 candidates who reported for baseball practice at the beginning of the season. Co-champions of the Gulf State Conference last season. The Demons should field a contender for this year's championship, should only one-third of the candidates reporting be real baseball players.

The team will be built around 14 returning lettermen. They are J. W. Beck, 2B; Billy Jack Booth, SS; H. A. Butler, OF; Jerry Cloutier, OF; Billy Roy Cook, P; Kemp Gordon, 1B; Roland Knott, C; Robert Lewis, P; Jerry Lott, OF; Billy Osborne, P; Dale Reeves, C; Larry Reeves, P. OF; Blake Sims, P; OF; and David Sosa, 3B.

As to the new men reporting, Coach Brown stated: "We have worked out only two days. I do not have any idea about the ability of the new boys."

The Demons will play a schedule of 27 games this season. For the schedule of games, see bottom of page.

TRACK

Coach Walter Ledet will be going after his sixth consecutive championship in the Gulf States Conference this season. His squad make their first triangular meet in Natchitoches on March 22. They will stage seven other meets before the G.S.C. meet in Lafayette, May 16-17. (see track schedule, page 4.)

TRACK—

Sixteen lettermen have reported for duty on the track squad. The loss of 8 lettermen from last year's team, three of whom won first places in the G.S.C. meet, will be difficult to overcome. Those lost are Lud Bandaries, Don Bowden, Sammy Essmeier, Benny Fowler, Don Hill, Charlie Johnson, Rudy Landry, and Harold White.

Returning for duty this season are M. B. Childress, Don Deen, Robert Farrar, Jerry Haynes, Bert Heckel, Charlie Hennigan, Dale Hoffpauir, Sonny Jimes, Steve Jordan, John McClellan, Petie Moore, Harold Smith, Ray Timm, Charles Tolar, Bobby Wicker, and "Lou" Ervin Liepens.

Among the new men reporting, who are expected to add strength to the squad, are George Bragg, Doyle Etheridge, Marvin Herring, Donald Herring, Richard Pulig, and Keith West.

From early reports of splendid recruits at other colleges, the Demons will have to give their best to win the championship for the sixth consecutive time.

TENNIS

The tennis squad, in charge of Coach Huey Cranford, will have the greatest depth this year in many seasons. The team will be built around Wade Parsons, former Fair Park Ace of Shreveport; Charles Bice, Winnfield; and Levi Thompson of Waterproof, returning veterans from last year.

Players who should give additional strength to the team are Jim Dowden, freshman from Fair Park; Mike LeLong of Coushatta, who played in 1953; and Bill Chamberlain, Elizabeth, of the 1956 team. Others out for the team are David Cole, Jena; Jerry Conerly and Paul Jenison, both of Leesville; and Don Rucker, Natchitoches.

The schedule for the season is as follows: March 21, Centenary, Natchitoches; March 29, Southeastern, Hammond; April 9, McNeese, Lake Charles; April 11, Louisiana College, Pineville; April 12, Louisiana College, Natchitoches; April 14, Centenary, Shreveport; April 15, Louisiana Tech, Natchitoches; April 18, Southeastern, Natchitoches; April 25, Southwestern, Lafayette; April 28, Louisiana Tech, Ruston; April 30, Southwestern, Natchitoches; May 7 McNeese, Natchitoches; and May 15-16, G.S.C.
